Highlights of the month

- The ASPI and S&P SL20 has witnessed growth of 12.6% and 4.5% respectively for the month of November. The markets have seen a considerable portion of this growth from a few selected companies.
- Foreigners had continued to exit the markets with net outflow of LKR 4.0 Bn for the month of November.
- The market has seen large volumes traded for the month of November with a total market turnover of LKR 153.4 Bn.
- The market capitalization has witnessed a steady increase over the period and grown to a P/E Ratio of 14.0 times.

Investment strategy: AIA Sri Lanka maintains a prudent investment strategy for its investment portfolios, in line with its investment philosophy and guidelines as set out in the investment policy. The Company advocates a long-term investment strategy supporting long-term growth. The equity strategy is driven by in-depth research with emphasis on growth and sustainability of earnings whilst principles such as liquidity, solvency and corporate governance also play a significant role in stock selection.

Fixed income outlook

- The benchmark 364-day Treasury bill rate declined to 8.12% during the month of November 2021 from 8.26% recorded in the previous month, mainly because of the sharp decrease recorded in the 3-month Treasury bill rate. The yields offered on the shorter end of the yield curve was perceived attractive by a segment of the market participants, which led to the steep decline in rates across the shorter end of the yield curve. The money market liquidity declined further to negative LKR 245 billion while the CBSL holding of Government Securities recorded a slight improvement from LKR 1.46 Trillion to LKR 1.41 trillion as of 7th December 2021.
- Inflation measured by CCPI(N) index increased significantly to 9.9% on a year-on-year basis during November 2021, mainly due the increase in food inflation, while core inflation increased to 7.0% on a year-on-year basis in November from 6.3% in the previous month.
- Considering the continuous pressure exerted on the currency coupled with weak macroeconomic fundamentals, interest rates may increase in Q1 2022. However, due to declining private sector credit growth and expectation of inflation moderating in the short term, interest rates may remain at current levels in the short run.

Equity outlook

- The two main indices of Colombo Stock Exchange (CSE) continued to record significant gains in November 2021. All Share Price Index (ASPI) and S&P SL 20 index appreciated by 12.57% and 4.52% respectively, during the month. Expectation of improved corporate performance by companies in several sectors such as manufacturing, export and plantations led to the increased participation of investors which drove the overall Colombo bourse. We continue to expect overall company earnings to be under pressure in FY2022, resulting in the equity market to be range bound.
